Obituary

Jane Doe was born on March 1, 1950 in Atlanta, Georgia at Grady Memorial Hospital. She was the first of ten children born to the union of John Walker Johnson and Essie Mae Johnson. She was preceded in death by her father and all four grandparents.

Jane, also affectionately known as “Jane”, attended the Atlanta Public School system and was a graduate of Turner High School in 1967. Jane attended Georgia State University and received her Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration in 1971. After graduating from college, Jane began her first job with The Red Company as a Business Manager. She would later work for The Blue Company, and DeKalb County Government.

Jane received Christ and united with the Christian Baptist Church, Decatur, Georgia, at the early age of 10. She remained a member of Christian Baptist Church throughout her lifetime. She was an usher for many years, and for a period of time she served as the Director of the Adult Usher Board. During her leadership, the Usher Ministry increased its membership tremendous.

In 1972, Jane wed her high school sweetheart, Johnathan Franklin Doe. From this union, three kids were born, Crystal, Johnathan, Jr., and Mildred. Jane loved her family and devoted herself to loving and caring for her husband and children. She loved her extended family and always was the first to plan holiday dinners and reunions.

Jane’s passion was for abused women. She volunteered twice a week at Family and Children Services as a mentor to abused women. She helped these women to become self-sufficient, and she devoted time to helping with their household errands, and helping to coordinate efforts to get many abused women into new homes.

Jane leaves to cherish her memories, her devoted husband, Johnathan Franklin Doe; three loving children, Crystal (Bradford) Pope of Gainesville, Georgia, Johnathan (Elizabeth) Doe of Charlotte, NC, and Mildred (Phillip) Michaels of Atlanta, Georgia; mother, and a host of other relatives and friends.
